Governments Fall, Results Of Decisions On American Debts

By The Associated Press.

Two governments have fallen as a result of decisions on the American debt, and although payments will be forthcoming from others, officials at Washington agreed that the situation is still badly tangled.

Premier Herriot of France was defeated by a vote in the chamber of deputies. He advocated payment of the debt installment tomorrow, with reservations. The chamber agreed that payment be withheld until the United States should consent to revision of the debt structure.

The Belgian government resigned after voting unanimously to withhold payment of the $2,250,000 installment due tomorrow. In both France and Belgium there was talk of returning the same governments to power.

England's problem is to be debated in parliament today, but regardless of what may happen there the government already has decided to pay the $95,550,000 due tomorrow with reservations which have been made in series of diplomatic notes.

The Italian government announced that its payment of $2,245,000 already was on hand.

There was some question in Washington as to whether England's payment would be accepted under the condition imposed by London, but administration spokesmen said the treasury would accept the money.

Secretary Stimson said no reply to the last British note would be necessary.

PEACE DESIRE PROMPTED SINO-RUSSIAN ACCORD

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—China's resumption of diplomatic relations with Soviet Russia was due to mutual desire to "usher in a period of peace and prosperity in the Far East."

This explanation, by Dr. Lo Wen-Kan, foreign minister, was cabled to the Chinese legation here.

But among Far Eastern experts in the state department there is lively speculation whether China's new treaty with Russia will be more enduring than one made in 1924 and rescinded in 1927 because of communist activities in the Flowery Republic.

In recent years communism has made great headway in many provinces of central China. Japan has represented to the League of Nations that nations of the western world should support its position in respect to Manchuria as a protection against the "Red Peril" while Dr. Wellington Koo, Chinese delegate to Geneva, also has set forth the "menace" of communism and declared his government cannot combat it while the Japanese occupy Manchuria.

International experts credit Russia with a diplomatic gain in re-establishing relations with China and they believe this development will make it doubly certain that Moscow will not grant recognition to the Manchukuo government of Henry Pu-Yi. At the same time a government spokesman at Tokyo has said the prospect of a Russo-Japanese non-aggression pact now seems very remote.

Russia's new treaty, following signing of non-aggression pacts with France and Poland, adds strength to the Russian position on both its eastern and western frontiers. Negotiations for a similar pact with Rumania are expected to be completed soon.

SKEPTICAL OF STORY TO SAVE MRS. JUDD

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 14 (AP).—A bit skeptical, county authorities awaited today to hear the "true story" of the killing of two women from the lips of Dr. William C. Judd, husband of Winnie Ruth Judd, convicted "trunk murderer," under sentence to be hanged February 17.

Dr. Judd, who was expected to arrive today from Prescott, said he would "tell all" to Sheriff J. R. McFadden in an attempt to save his wife.

If Dr. Judd has any new facts, said the sheriff, "we will be glad to hear them. It seems a bit strange he did not come to the aid of his wife before this."

Mrs. Judd was convicted of murdering Mrs. Agnes Anne Le Roi. She also was charged with killing Miss Hedvig Samuelson.

Outrage, Says Snell

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Representative Snell (R., N. Y.) as he left the White House today was asked if he had discussed with the President the impeachment move made yesterday in the House by Representative McFadden (R., Pa.). Snell declined to answer, but said: "That was an outrage."

Killed In Fall

New York, Dec. 14 (AP).—William J. Coughlin, 52, was killed early today when he jumped or fell from the New York Athletic Club building to the sidewalk in the rear. A brother, Jasper Coughlin, of Newark, N. J., identified the body.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Treasury receipts for December 13 were $6,380,142.60; expenditures $9,121,434.50; balance $516,544,391.21. Customs duties for 12 days of December were $9,242,611.92.

Resent Attitude of French in Refusal To Pay Installment

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Resentment flared in congress today over the French decision against paying the $15,261,432 debt installment due here tomorrow, but at the White House and state department an attitude of careful silence was maintained.

Expressions of indignation first rose in Democratic quarters. Senator McKellar of Tennessee said it was clear "that Germany is not the only European nation that treats its obligations as scraps of paper."

"I think it is the most ungrateful act in the career of any nation in the world," he added to newspapermen.

While President Hoover kept close touch with the situation, there was no indication of further action to come either from him or the state department. Officials pondered the consequences likely to flow from the Paris refusal to meet its debt payment.

One congressional view given to reporters, by Chairman McNamara of the house foreign affairs committee, was that "France has less excuse now to pay than any other nation."

"The settlement made with her was only 75 per cent of what she received after the war."

"There is no question about France's ability to pay."

Senator Bingham (R., Conn.) said he had not supposed "the French, whose business sense is so acute, would default."

"They forget that had we been unwilling to loan them the money they needed when they needed it and on reasonable terms, the result would have been fatal to France," he said.

Jury Fails To Agree In Auto Crash Case

The jury which heard the evidence in the actions brought by Anna D. Wood and Edson Wood against Lenore Brown failed to agree and at 11 o'clock Tuesday night Judge Loughran took the disagreement verdict and discharged the jury. The actions were brought against both Harris Brown and his wife but the actions brought against Harris Brown were dismissed when it developed during trial that the car was owned by Mrs. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood sought damages as a result of a collision at Pearl and Green streets. Plaintiffs claimed that the car of Mrs. Brown, driven by an employee struck their car and damaged the car and inflicted injuries to Mrs. Wood.

A. J. Cook appeared for defendants and Brinlinger & Elsworth appeared for the plaintiffs.

This morning another negligence action was taken up for trial. Joseph L. Kramer seeks to recover damages from Joseph A. McNellis & Company as a result of an accident at the corner of Main and Green streets. Robert J. Howard appears for plaintiff and Benjamin C. Loder of New York by Brinlinger & Elsworth appear for defendants.

First Coasting Accident Here

John, Young Son of Policeman James P. Martin, in Kingston Hospital With Leg Laid Open From Knee to Ankle—Sled Collided With Auto.

John Martin, 14, son of Policeman and Mrs. James P. Martin of 247 West Chestnut street, is the victim of the first coasting accident here this season. While coasting on the Ravine street hill shortly after 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon his sled collided with an auto driven by Cleon LeRoy Mackey of 50 Clarendon avenue, who was turning from West Strand into Ravine street when the sled struck his car.

Young Martin's leg was laid open from the knee to the ankle. Mr. Mackey conveyed the boy to his home on West Chestnut street and later to the Kingston Hospital where the wound was sewed up.

John had just gotten out of school when he met his friend, Walter Van Demark, who resides near Van Demark. Arthur has a new sled and the two boys decided to give it a try out. They coasted down the Ravine street hill with Martin riding in front and Van Demark on the rear of the sled as it crashed into the car turning from West Strand into Ravine street.

MOORE SNOW FELL IN CITY ON TUESDAY EVENING

Another snowstorm broke over Kingston early Tuesday evening, and before it ceased over an inch had fallen. The snowfall has afforded work for otherwise unemployed men from the lists of the emergency work relief committee. The snowfall of Tuesday night covered the city pavement from view and made it necessary to drive carefully to avoid accidents.

Health Board Met on Tuesday

Taxpayers' Association Favors State Aid For City Laboratory—Routine Matters at Regular Session—Board Considered Budget at Close of Meeting.

A communication from the Kingston Taxpayers' Association favoring the obtaining of state aid for the city laboratory was read at the regular meeting of the board of health on Tuesday evening. At the close of the meeting the board went into executive session to consider the budget for 1933, which must be in the hands of the city clerk not later than Thursday.

The communication from the Taxpayers' Association which was signed by Elmer E. Swart, chairman of the committee appointed at the last meeting of the association. The communication read as follows:

"At the last meeting of the Taxpayers' Association I was appointed chairman of a committee to present to you and through you to the common council the proposition of having the city take advantage of the provisions of the public health law of the state in obtaining and receiving state aid for the city laboratory."

"As we are advised, the city, through the common council, may apply to the state for state aid in maintaining and operating a laboratory. If the city takes this action the state will pay to the city each year an amount not to exceed one-half of the costs of maintaining the laboratory, not in excess of $7,500. The state also allows or pays the sum of $2,500 toward the installation and equipment of the laboratory, but whether they will make such allowance when the laboratory is already established we do not know."

"As we are informed this requires action upon the part of the common council. However, we believe that your board should pass upon the proposition first and make the request to the common council. In the event such action is taken the state commissioner of health certifies to the state comptroller each year the amount due, which is supposed to be one-half of the cost of maintaining the laboratory for the year and the state comptroller draws the warrant upon the state treasury in favor of the city treasurer for the amount."

"If such action is taken by the common council and approved by the state commissioner of health, the mayor appoints a board of managers of five or more, two of whom shall be physicians, with the mayor and health officer as ex-officio members. This board must meet at least four times each year, and they are so appointed that the term of one member expires January 1 each year. The laboratory is inspected by the state department of health and is subject to the supervision of the director of the division of laboratories of the state. The power of the board of managers is set forth in the public health law and it includes general management and control of the laboratory."

"As such action will save the city one-half of the cost of maintaining the city laboratory, we petition you to pass a resolution requesting the common council to take the necessary action so that the city can avail itself of the state aid provided for in the public health law of the state and of which aid other cities have taken advantage."

The letter was referred to the laboratory committee.

The reports of the officers, which were received and filed, will be found elsewhere. The board audited a number of bills and then adjourned to meet in executive session to consider its budget for 1933.

APPLES RED ALL THE WAY TO THE CORE

Minneapolis, Dec. 14 (AP).—You've heard of "red" apples and apples with "rosy cheeks," but where can anyone get an apple that's red all the way to the core?

Off hand, University of Minnesota Farm School professors will tell you they know of only one place, and that is from Congressman-elect P. H. Shoemaker, Farmer-Laborite.

Twelve years of amateur experimenting—Burbanking as he terms it—in his backyard at Appleton, Wis., where he used to live, Mr. Shoemaker produced a russet apple with a red pulp.

Professor W. H. Alderman, chief of the Division of Horticulture at the College of Agriculture, said the apple is an interesting variation which he expects to use in further experimentation, hoping to cross it with types to improve the quality while retaining its unusual features.

Shoemaker, who will take office on March 4, now resides at Red Wing, Minn.

BRITISH MINISTERS MAY VISIT U. S. AS DEBT GROUP

London, Dec. 14 (AP).—A call for the earliest possible beginning of conversations between Great Britain and the United States regarding revision of the war debt agreement appeared today in newspaper comments on the situation resulting from the British government's fourth debt note to Washington.

There was talk of a possible visit to Washington early in the new year by British ministers to participate in the desired conversations.

There was speculation in political circles that President-elect Roosevelt might cooperate with President Hoover in the hoped-for conversations.

Patron List for Jr. League Revue Drew Large Audience

Monday afternoon a meeting of the Junior League was held at the Junior League headquarters, 1114 Main street. From the reports turned in it is apparent that the sale of tickets is going forward at an unusual speed.

A communication from the Junior League was read at the regular meeting of the board of health on Tuesday evening. At the close of the meeting the board went into executive session to consider the budget for 1933, which must be in the hands of the city clerk not later than Thursday.

Children's Theatre Here Again Jan. 13

The Mothers' Association of St. Ursula wishes to express its appreciation of the generous support of its first production in Kingston of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre, and especially to thank those adults who so willingly gave preference in seating to little children. The association regrets that it was unable to provide seats for all who wished to see the performance.

The second appearance of the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre will be on Friday, January 13, at four o'clock at the Broadway Theatre in "The Little Princess," a dramatization of the book "Sara Crewe" by Frances Hodgson Burnett. This production is considered by Mrs. Major the finest of this year's plays for children and comes to Kingston direct from two months' run in Boston and vicinity. The same prices will prevail for this production as for "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs," except there will be one price level for the entire orchestra, instead of three, in order to bring the play within the reach of as many children as possible.

To those children unfamiliar with this delightful story by Mrs. Burnett, it is suggested that they obtain a copy of the book from the public library. Copies are also on sale at O'Reilly's stationery store on John street and at E. Winter's Sons on Wall street.

Thief Stripped A Chevrolet Coupe

About 3 o'clock this morning the nightwatchman at the Ford packing plant on Abel street telephoned police headquarters that someone was seen around the half dozen cars parked under the shed. Officer Stewart was sent to the scene and found that the thief had stripped a Chevrolet coupe. The thief had stolen two blankets, one motor meter cap, had broken off the horn and taken it, a distributor cap, one tank cap and a set of chains.

Bishop O'Hern Improving

Rochester, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP).—Although the Rev. John Francis O'Hern, Catholic bishop of Rochester, continues to improve after a serious heart attack eight days ago, it will take many weeks of rest before he can resume his Episcopal duties, his physicians said today. The four physicians attending Bishop O'Hern announced he has maintained steady progress and is on the road to recovery.

Helen Keller's Visit Pay Or Default Is Attitude Of U. S. On Debt Payments Refuses To Pay Debt

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Premier Herriot and continued by France in the attitude of the American government today nevertheless held firm to its attitude toward Europe of war debts payment.

But underneath official Washington, a current of suspense, of uneasiness, as word was received that the French Chamber of Deputies had voted against paying the nation's $20,000,000 interest installment unless the United States agreed to reconsideration.

The action of the Chamber of Deputies unseated hopes that have been held by the American government that the French Chamber of Deputies would make before foreign creditors a moratorium extension, indications were that the White House and the State Department would keep silent until after tomorrow—when nearly $124,000,000 is due from the debtors.

Should France Belgium and other nations default, President Hoover then probably will make those facts known officially to Congress in a special message and at the same time he may propose a new study of the debt question.

Congress alone can alter existing agreements, and with one day remaining it was plain nothing would be done until December 15 has come and gone.

Chicago, Dec. 14 (AP).—Put gangsters in jail or in the morgue. That was the order Chicago police had today from Mayor Anton J. Cermak as he directed a campaign against speakeasies, beer flats and gambling places.

Increased by the killing of a policeman, and seven other persons a few hours after the had given orders holding police captains personally responsible for hoodlum activities, the mayor said:

"It's about time the police themselves start some shooting. I told the captains there was not one speakeasy in the city that they or their men didn't know about. But they had to have a policeman killed to prove what I said was true."

Smartering under the mayor's tongue lashing, police started a series of raids that landed some 15 persons in jail last night, two of them, Joseph (Red) Bolton and Michael (Lippy) Nucio were listed as "public enemies."

Loon night life was interrupted by a gambling raid in a downtown hotel building where police confiscated several machines allegedly owned by the Al Capone syndicate and used for gambling purposes.

Smaller beer flats and speakeasies were given orders yesterday to close their doors and police said the majority complied.

Three Gunmen Kill Patrolman Gerhard

New York, Dec. 14 (AP).—Patrolman George L. Gerhard, 31, was fatally wounded by three gunmen whom he surprised while they were holding up a cordial shop in upper Manhattan early this morning.

Two other patrolmen who engaged in a running gun fight through crowded Amsterdam avenue with the robbers when they attempted to escape were slightly wounded before they brought one of the trio down with a bullet in the chest and captured another. The third escaped.

Gerhard died in Roosevelt Hospital with seven slugs in his body. He was to have appeared tomorrow before the honor board of the police department for commendation for capturing seven gunmen several months ago.

The wounded hand, whose condition was said to be serious, gave the name of Joseph Ryan. Police found 150 dum-dum bullets, a pistol and a black jack on him. The captured robber, only 17 years old, gave the name of Ralph Florence.

The robbers, who secured only a few dollars from the holdup, were both charged with homicide.

Herriot And Cabinet Resign As Chamber Refuses To Pay Debt

Paris, Dec. 14 (AP).—Premier Herriot and his cabinet resigned today after the Chamber of Deputies voted against paying the nation's $20,000,000 interest installment unless the United States agreed to reconsideration.

The chamber declined to defer the debt payment until an international conference, as the government had proposed, and overruling 384 to 17 votes, it proved the action. The premier's plan for the payment with reservations was defeated shortly before by a vote of 402 to 147.

Because of this vote the Herriot cabinet submitted its resignation. Many of the premier's supporters left the chamber before the second vote was taken, and the morning's deliberation of the payment was postponed by the chamber's failure to pass a motion for a vote on the matter.

The action of the chamber, concluding 14 hours' debate, was interpreted in London as directed against the attitude of the American government of the debt issue, rather than against the radical Socialist party leader who has been head of the government for the last six months.

Cold Reception

The 402 deputies who voted on the government included men of all parties. Throughout the long session, the busy premier, who pleaded that the debt had to be paid as a matter of national honor, was listened to respectfully but coldly.

The defeat of the government precipitated a situation calling into question the whole system of debts and war reparations.

President Albert Lebrun, for whom it was the first ministerial crisis, faced a task of exceptional difficulty in attempting to establish a new government. The composition of the adverse majority offered him no guidance in fixing his choice of statesmen to form a new cabinet.

He may have to proceed with a large number of consultations with leaders of all shades of opinion after his opening conversations today with the presidents of the Chamber and Senate. Meanwhile, the government of the country was at a standstill, facing a grave situation internally as well as externally.

Joseph Paul-Boncour, minister of war, and Edouard Daladier, minister of public works in the Herriot cabinet, were mentioned as likely successors to their chief.

Pierre Renaudel, leader of the Socialist party which led the bolt of leftist members on the debt issue, said the premier's insistence on "good relations" with England biased the French foreign policy.

"We say this in our resolution, which the government, charged with transactions of current business, ought to carry out," he declared.

Continue at Present

When the Herriot minister handed their resignations to President Lebrun at 5:35 a. m. he asked them to continue to transact current business until their successors were appointed. It was announced in London that it would be Herriot's duty to transmit to Washington the text of the chamber resolution.

The chamber's resolution urged an international conference "having for its purpose to adjust all the international obligations and to put an end to all international transfers not having a counterpart, a conference which would be in liaison with the world economic conference charged to make sound the monetary situation and to restore credit."

It went on to declare the chamber authorized payment of the December 15 obligation only at such a time as an international conference on debts could be held.

The premier's plan was that the payment be made with the stipulation that it be credited as a capital payment on a future debt accord and not as interest as defined by the present debt agreement.

This was similar to the stipulations being made by Great Britain. The premier urged "solidarity" with the British government in the matter and during the debate said "our solidarity" with the British "has become a veritable fraternity" in the past two weeks.

The closing hours of the historic chamber session were among the most thrilling in France's long parliamentary history.

Mills Winds Up Hearings on Beer

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Secretary Mills of the treasury and several leaders of prohibition organizations appeared today before the house ways and means committee as hearings on legalization of beer and light wines were concluded.

Mills was asked to give estimates of the amount of revenue to be derived by a $5 tax per barrel of legalized brew while the prohibitionists, headed by F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, opposed efforts to change the Volstead law.

Tuesday, when the hearings ended today. The committee must decide on the alcoholic content and tax in any bill reported.

The present hearings have been held on the Collier bill which fixes the alcoholic content of beer at 2.75 by weight and the tax at $5 per barrel.

Speaker Garner said yesterday that the house probably would take up the beer proposal next Tuesday. He hopes to have a vote before the Christmas recess.

News All Over The Empire State

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP).—Burlingame F. Kelly, sergeant in the state police, is the bodyguard assigned to look out for the safety of Governor-elect Herbert H. Lehman.

Kelly's six foot two frame is familiar in the state capitol. He served as bodyguard during part of the recent gubernatorial campaign, and has been assigned to continue in that capacity until Mr. Lehman is inaugurated January 2.

Middletown, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP).—Neighbors, wondering why they had not seen James Gillingham, 74, for several days, yesterday went to his home at Newton, where he lived alone, and found him dead, resting on his knees in an attitude of prayer.

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP).—A resolution requesting that Professor Albert Einstein, the German scientist, be denied admittance to the United States will be drafted by Syracuse Post 41, American Legion. ORPHANAGE SISTERS THANK MRS. KENNY

Through the courtesy and generosity of Mrs. Anna Kenny, Rosendale, a centerpiece and scarf was disposed of and proceeds amounting to $50 given to Sacred Heart Orphanage, West Park, as a Christmas offering for the benefit of the orphans.

To all kind friends who cooperated so generously with Mrs. Kenny for the success of this cause, the sisters extend their sincere thanks, and pray that God may recompense them abundantly, and return their goodness and charity, in hundredfold blessings. May their Christmas be very, very happy, and may the ensuing year dawn bright and unclouded.

Sets Pet Bird's Leg

One of the oddest cases taken in at a big London hospital was that of a pet canary which was given surgical treatment at the Seaman's hospital, Greenwich. "My darling canary has broken its leg in wirework of its cage, please do something for it," a woman appealed to the surgeon in charge. The delicate leg of the bird presented unusual difficulties, but he succeeded in setting it after working for an hour.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 14 (AP).—A victory for Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, the President-elect, in his fight for immediate consideration by the state legislature of his proposed for drastic reforms in the New York city government seemed probable today.

Democratic leaders in the Senate and Assembly were prepared to introduce bills to create a legislative commission at the present extraordinary session of the legislature to work on the governor's proposals and report at the regular session beginning January 4.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—The nomination of Roy D. Chapin of Michigan, as secretary of commerce was confirmed by the Senate today, after the Democrats had blocked consideration of other presidential appointments.

Sheriff-Elect Saxe Announces His Staff

There has been much speculation as to the probable personnel of the staff at the sheriff's office when the newly elected sheriff, John H. Saxe, takes over control January 1.

Mr. Saxe, who has been giving the matter much thought and consideration, with a view to making the best possible selection of assistants to aid him in carrying on the work of this very important branch of the county government, announced today that he had completed his rather difficult task and had selected the following staff:

Under Sheriff—J. W. Feeter, Highland.

Jailor—Abram Molynaux, Kingston.

Night jailor and janitor—Lyman Elsworth, Port Ewen.

Assistant Jailor—Clayton W. Vredenburg, West Hurley.

Assistant day jailor—Claude Marzelle, Kingston.

Assistant night jailor—Frank A. O'Reilly, Kingston.

Comment on Mr. Saxe's selection is that he has shown excellent judgment and has named a staff that should help him to give Ulster county one of the best administrations of the sheriff's office that it has known.

Phil Kelly's Store Was Burglarized

Early this morning the confectionery and tobacco store of Phil Kelly at Hartsburg and Delaware avenues was burglarized, and a display case containing packages of cigarettes was stolen.

The thief obtained entrance by breaking the glass around one of the window fastenings on the Delaware avenue side of the store and unlocked the window. Throwing up the window he then climbed into the store and walked out with the display case and its contents under his arm. As far as could be ascertained nothing else was stolen.

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

WEST SHOKAN.

West Shokan, Dec. 13.—With the week-end came the season's first snow fall which terminated during Sunday night with a fall of four inches. As the temperature moderated a misty rain fell Monday morning, causing the snow to soften and tending for heavy slippery traveling conditions on the highways.

Although Sunday was a cold, dreary day the Sunday school attendance was large. The superintendent, Mrs. John Thompson, was in charge and conducted the adult class. The primary class was led by Miss Helen Thompson due to the illness of Miss Marion Davis, assistant superintendent. The singing selections were "Life's Railroad to Heaven", "Share Jesus Came Into My Heart", and "Sunshine in My Soul". The lesson topic was "The Christian's Use of Leisure" and the Golden Text: "Whether therefore ye eat or drink or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God." Corinthians 10:31.

Next Sunday's lesson will be the quarterly review: "Christian Standards of Life".

The snow storm Saturday evening did not greatly dampen the ardor of the dancers as there was a fine attendance at the opening affair at the Olive Bridge Hall, given under the auspices of the members of the entertainment committee of Shokan I. O. O. F. Lodge. Music was furnished by Frank Consable and his Royal Delawareans, who are engaged for the weekly Christmas series. Another dance is announced for next Saturday night.

Rabbit hunters hailed with delight the snow fall and were out in mass formation all day Monday red hot on the bushes' tell tale trails. Game sounding about the valley indicated considerable success at attending the deer hunters' efforts.

Friends from about the locality attended the funeral of Mrs. Isabelle

Olmstead, held Saturday afternoon in the Shandaken Methodist Church. The death of Mrs. Olmstead terminated an illness of several months which followed shortly after the death of her husband, Mrs. Olmstead was well and favorably known having been a school teacher for many years. Two years ago she taught at the Broadhead district, preceded by two terms at Bushkill. Due to her outstanding ability she was highly successful in conducting school and church entertainments, also taking personal parts in plays and monologues. At a Shandaken Home Bureau play held about a year ago at Colange's Hall, the audience was highly elated over the various capacities in which Mrs. Olmstead acted.

Local Christmas activities are outlined as follows: The West Shokan school entertainment, for which Mrs. West and the children are making elaborate preparation, will be held at the school house Friday evening, December 23. On Christmas Eve, Saturday evening, December 24, the Community Sunday school will hold a supper and Christmas party at the church. Further details will be announced at a later date.

Miss Marion Davis of West Shokan Heights was very ill over the week-end due to a severe attack of arthritis which followed a final inoculation with typhoid serum by a Kingston physician on Friday. The inoculation is a requisite before her contemplated entry into the training school at St. Luke's Hospital, New York city. Miss Davis is feeling much improved at this writing.

Eddie Winkler beat out the snow storm by cutting and hauling about 15 dry loads of firewood on Friday, and getting it all sawed in Shokan Saturday. He was assisted by the experienced hands of Harold Constable together with his grandfather, Miss Helen Lohr of Brooklyn, who is a very socially prominent summer resident of Main street, is enjoying a delightful week's stay at the home of her congenial neighbors, Judge and Mrs. Lester S. Davis. Miss Lohr has a host of friends about the community as she and sister, Ann, now Mrs. Dan Purfield, have been coming here with their parents since the cradle age.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gagner of Port Washington, L. I., timed their week-end visit here so as to enjoy the thrill of the season's first snow storm. Mr. and Mrs. Gagner were entertained at the home of his mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Whittier, at Tuckaway Farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton Roe of West Shokan Heights accompanied Charles Hesley on a trip to Kingston on Thursday. Mrs. Roe is under the care of Dr. Silk of Kingston.

Dr. and Mrs. Quinn of Phoenixia were callers here on Monday.

A group of local communicants attended Mass in the Catholic Church in Phoenixia on Sunday morning.

Friends here extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barringer of Samosville Heights over their recent new addition to the family.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Avery of Maple Dell Farm left early Sunday morning despite the adverse weather conditions for their annual visit among friends and relatives along the border tier in and about Cuba, N. Y., and Bradford, Penn.

MIRACLE PLAY AT ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

On Sunday afternoon, December 18, at 4 o'clock, several of the older members of the St. John's Church school, under the training of Miss Reeves and members of the choir who have been trained by the choir-master and organist, Robert Williams, will give a Miracle Play in the church. This play is the dramatization of a story by Raymond MacDonald Alden, entitled "Why the Chimney Rang", which has been published by Bobbs, Merrill Company.

Comforter Aid Officers.

The Ladies' Aid of the Church of the Comforter held election of officers at its meeting Tuesday when the following were chosen to head the society: Mrs. Frank L. Brown, president; Mrs. George Shufeldt, vice president; Mrs. William S. Wood, second vice president; Mrs. LeRoy Brown, secretary; and Mrs. Rufus D. Kelder, treasurer. There were approximately 15 at the meeting after which refreshments were served. Christmas presents were received by the officers and by the Rev. and Mrs. Wilbur Stowe.

End Confirmations.

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—The Senate closed the door today against confirmation of further nominations by President Hoover. It was done in the first party test of the session.

Majesties vs. spiders.

High Falls Gets Fire Protection

On Saturday, December 10, the Sanford Motor Truck Co., of Syracuse, N. Y., delivered to High Falls a 300 gallon pumper equipped with an 80 gallon booster tank.

This apparatus with its 1,000 feet of fire hose will furnish ample protection to the majority of the properties in the district, those in the isolated portions where no large supply of water is available will be protected by the booster equipment.

As this community has never had any fire protection, a meeting for all those interested in fire fighting will be held in Quick Brothers' garage at 8 p. m. on Thursday, December 15. The purpose will be to organize a volunteer department to operate the apparatus. From the amount of enthusiasm shown there will no doubt be a great number of men present.

The fire commissioners, Oscar Church, William F. Atkins and William S. Quick, have also made arrangements for the installation of a suitable alarm system. As soon as the volunteers become proficient in the operation of all the equipment the New York Fire Insurance Rating Organization will make an inspection of the district for the purpose of adjusting the fire insurance rates.

SANTA and the MAGIC DOLL

SYNOPSIS: A cruel witch is burned by Inga and Pinocchio, two of Toyland's dolls, after they had been helped by a woods fairy who disguised them as foxes. As the witch burns, nearby rocks turned into people who had also been under the witch's spell. Inga has a magic gold mirror.

Chapter IX

THE MAGIC BASKET

All the people and dolls and woods animals that Inga and Pinocchio had freed clustered about them and thanked them, and there was much merry-making.

"Now we can go back to Toyland with you," shouted the dolls. There were tin soldiers, lady dolls, red-leather dogs and little black monkeys that Santa had lost many years before.

"Oh, Santa will be so glad to see you," said Inga, clasping her hands. "First I must get my mirror out of the cave. So they waited until the smoke had blown out of the passage and then Inga and Pinocchio and some tin soldiers went in together. There wasn't a trace of the witch left.

Inga found her mirror, and then they went into the witch's big room. "Now what shall I do?" asked Inga, holding up the mirror. And the mirror showed a picture of a basket.

"What do you suppose that means?" said Pinocchio.

"Don't you remember? That little squirrel told us about the basket that is never empty. It must be in here," said Inga.

So the whole company looked and looked, and finally they found a little brown basket in a dark corner.

"This must be it," cried Inga. "Let's see what's in it. I wish I had a cunning little coach with six tiny, white horses to pull me back to Toyland."

She put her hand into the basket and pulled out a little gold coach no bigger than a walnut and six little horses no bigger than bumble-bees.

But when she set them on the ground they suddenly became as big as they should be to serve a doll.

"Goody, goody," she cried. "It really is a magic basket. I'm going to take it back to Toyland, and I'll take the magic bottle of water back to the woods fairy, but I guess we can keep the little gold mirror until we find the princess to whom it belonged when the witch took it."

With a sweeping bow, Pinocchio returned the magic water bottle to the little woods fairy.

"Why don't we get help for all these other people who have to go home?" suggested Pinocchio.

"That's a fine idea," said Inga, so she put her hand into the basket dozens of times, each time wishing for another little boy or girl. And each time out came a horse no bigger than a bumble-bee, and each time the magic horse grew into just the right size for some person in the crowd.

Little ones for the dolls and big ones for the knights. And, of course, the woods animals didn't need any.

Then they all started out from the witch's mountain to go home. Half way through the woods the whole company stopped because there stood the little woods fairy smiling because the two dolls had come back safely.

Pinocchio hopped out of the doll's carriage and with a big sweeping bow returned the little water bottle she had lent them.

"Without your help we would not have been successful," she said. "Thank you so much." And then they rode on.

At last they saw the roofs of Toyland, and at the crossing of the roads the whole company stopped. The dolls bade goodbye to the rest, because, you see, no one but toys are permitted in the fairyland where Santa works.

Then Pinocchio and Inga and the dolls hurried on to find Santa.

Kingston: "Faithless." A romance of business with Tallulah Bankhead in her best role to date, supported by Robert Montgomery and a distinguished cast. It's the story of a young business man in love with a wealthy girl. When the well remembered crash comes, he finds himself without money or job. The girl is also penniless. How they are united after bitterness and struggles is the plot basis of the picture.

Orpheum: "Public Enemy." James Cagney, Jean Harlow, Joan Blondell and Edward Woods are the principal players in this exciting and well acted melodrama of racketeers and their methods.

Broadway: "Breach of Promise." A different sort of plot, in which a small town girl sees a political candidate for breach of promise. There is a method in her madness, and the show offers a number of surprises before the curtain. Mae Clarke and Chester Morris are the featured players.

Ritz: "Age for Love" and "Mystery Train." Billie Dove is as beautiful as ever in this familiar story of a girl who seeks romance. "Mystery Train" is a thriller of the railroad business.

Orpheum: "Dance Team" and "The Man Who Played God." James Dunn and Sally Eilers are the stars of the first feature, a modern story of a young couple who rise to fame along Broadway through their dancing ability. "The Man Who Played God" is another excellent play with George Arliss in the role of a great musician who loses his hearing, and who believes life has taken all from him until he realizes that there is enjoyment in making others happy. Fine entertainment.

George W. Nichols Frees His Mind

Of Many Matters Political, Sociological and Financial—The Sage of Binnewater Has Constructive Ideas Which He Sets Forth in Detail, with the Whys and Wherefores Thereof.

Editor, Freeman

Now that political sky is cleared, we can resume sane reasoning, plan revisions and cut down on heavy budgets. To get at the roots of taxpayers' problems, they must face cold facts, dismissing all sympathy for the political job holders whose objections to public demands are based on self preservation and not through any interest in the taxpayer. Search carefully the records of results attained in past decade by objecting office holders.

Had our state legislators acted promptly when officials of New York city pleaded time and again for assistance the present mess and expense of Hofstadter Committee could have been avoided. Some of our local leaders should clean up the problems of Ulster and waste less time worrying over New York city instead of present obstructionist policies such as the recent Ashokan Dam tax hearings brought forth as well as what looks like a political scheme to make New York city pay for the support of some towns out of sound reason.

Without partisan bias or prejudice or as an office holder I have carefully studied methods used politically covering a period of about ten years. Coldly stated there is not a single resemblance of what is known as genuine Republican policies or principles in Ulster, despite the efforts made by honest Republicans for whose work I have the highest personal regard along with certain real clean Democrats. My conclusion is that the present system is a plain racket operated solely for the benefit of a small group perpetually rotating in office at the expense of the taxpayers and Republicans who cannot see through the smoke screen.

As a sidelight locally, would it not be better for taxpayers if all supplies should not be open to public bid so all Ulster business men could participate? On our highways there is a score or more items that now go into same hands year after year without bid, and usually flanked by a stubborn refusal to reveal prices, etc.

To be specific let us take the item of natural rock asphalt used in Kingston. During the Dempsey administration there was bought without public bid about 1,500 tons and the price bid understood was $16.25 per ton. At this price the city could have saved its taxpayers between $1,500 and $2,000 by public bid and I openly challenge contradiction. Recently the Carey group gave out a contract and neither private or public request in the Freeman, September 30, has brought forth the information as to price paid and amount of tonnage in contract or a denial as to the existence of such contract.

Another item is the story in Kingston Leader, page 1, November 2, 1932 issue. Briefly it states that through the efforts of Mayor Carey, the Cushing Stone Co. of Schenectady contributed $200 to the School Children Fund. This company recently furnished Kingston with a paving material known as "amette."

The School Children Fund is a worthy project but legally it is a question if in soliciting and accepting the money from a contracting concern the mayor did not walk into a trap set for him? Certainly he set a dangerous precedent which in the hands of unscrupulous politicians would open the door to a straight demand for a bribe in return for a contract or the same thing under the guise of "charity" where this group fearing public reaction from information becoming known they were grafters or demanding a "cut" from commissions?

Frankly I cannot see why the Carey group after campaigning on costs of Kingston's asphalt pavements should be found doing business on the same basis as Dempsey administration and handing out contracts to same element? Perhaps some Kingstonian who has no political axe to grind can explain this tangle. If the Carey group can explain their action it should prove interesting to business men who are not interested in political greed and animosities in a county where one wonders whether a square deal is a means to an end and a cloak for public betrayal or whether it means what it implies.

Industrially Ulster should be in a good position to progress enough to have plants to absorb unemployment. Perhaps some of our leaders are opposed to Ulster's growth because they would not be able to control the people who might come in and spend some money to build it up. Perhaps it's better to let them come in and when they get all set trim them or tax them so high they will abandon the enterprises and let the folks who need work walk the streets? Look around and see the wreck of former prosperous industries and then search your local newspaper files and see how many of the perpetual officeholders in Ulster who are so glib of speech with their financial and prosperous political contacts ever offered a clear suggestion for revivals or definite plan to advance Ulster industries. This is worth study by the women whose men now walk around looking for jobs. We need new blood and clean younger men and women in office and permanent retirement of old school type of leadership. When we ignore the plea of the leader fearing exposure of bad government, to crucify those who can see the camouflage practiced then on that day Ulster will progress.

The ideas of various taxpayers' groups seeking ways and means to cut governmental expenses is an excellent one, but the real question is do they really want revision and are they using a sincere spokesman or one who is active for personal political advantage. If the taxpayers can forget party lines long enough to put up a united front they could get everything they wanted once they clearly demonstrate to the officeholders that they are the servants of taxpayers and if they feel they are the Boss why it's simple to retire them from public office.

If legislative aid is necessary Senator Wicks pre-election talks about economies should prove an asset to taxpayers who pay his salary to get results. The senator could see that legislation required be drawn correctly, legally and free from usual earmarks of political tricksters.

Since the present group are girdling themselves for the battle next fall to control Ulster a little longer, now is the time to study carefully reform matters suddenly brought forth, cleverly designed to mislead the public. They have learned from 30 years experience many clever tricks. As to their sincerity—you are sole judge. What you want is permanent results?

As a few examples of what can be done why not abolish all the various town tax collectors and pay your tax to the salaried county treasurer, without any fee except in case of delinquent payments? If you object to this, figure out the costs in fees paid in Ulster county to various collectors and then produce the alibi that will prove you could not save any money without offending the political leader.

Abolish the office of town constable which has outlived its usefulness in Ulster. The work can be done by a better trained, courteous deputy sheriff cut down in number to a minimum and put on a salaried basis and in uniform, and appointment by examination of the standard of well trained police forces and keep political influence out of law enforcement as the present system needs pruning and proper legal training.

Most of us outside those sections having paid police force depend upon the courteous, efficient State Troopers in our midst anyway so the elimination of the constable would save a few dollars as it's hard to expect efficient service from the type who however honest they might try to enforce the law intelligently soon learn it can't be done properly where the job depends upon the whims of a small town leader. Standards of law enforcement officers have changed in past 20 years but here in Ulster we are overworked and the job is more of a patronage affair and I have not seen any endeavor made to raise the standards of either constable or deputy sheriffs and clearly explain to them their legal status and what is expected of them as a whole.

Reorganize the justices of peace. The rapid advance in law in even past 10 years demands better lawyers and requires the overhauling of obsolete justice of peace courts and lesser courts. If justice is to be safeguarded for the poorer man it is imperative that we do this. I do not question the sincerity of some justices I have studied while acting in that capacity. Their earnest endeavor however has been destroyed by the seeping in of a class unfit to realize that the power of deciding property rights of their neighbors is a serious affair and not to be used as a source of personal revenue and playing into the favor of the shrewd unethical lawyer as against the poor or ignorant man or those unable financially to employ counsel to defend them.

I have witnessed some pretty raw cases of bulldozing of justices. To anyone familiar with law it was evident the object was to confuse the justice rather than from purpose of law to produce facts understandable to that justice whose office does not require legal training. Such procedure reflects no credit to the lawyer, the County Bar or the law itself. A jail sentence for contempt might cure this type lawyer and correct the abuse.

Every man is entitled to and should get a square deal at law. The large monopolistic utilities corporations should receive no more special privileges than that given poorer man or woman. Were I the justice sitting in such cases I would be apt to be suspicious as to honest facts presented where the defendant was absent after being properly served and I would consider it my duty to find out why before handing down any decisions in favor of corporations they might have to hand out. The corporation lawyer does not elect the judge and for that reason the public should be cautious in choosing judges. To the man who likes to find out things for himself check up all cases in past five years and see how many cases were won by corporate utilities against that of the individual. Note carefully how many judgments were by "default" in justice, county or supreme court.

Suppose we abolished the justice of peace courts and zoned Ulster. Create 4 or 5 paid, legally trained men to handle all present cases and all fines and fees to go to the zoned district, after deducting justice salary. The zoning would also eliminate a favorite pastime of some lawyers finding a friendly justice far away from the home of the defendant. The law never intended this unwarranted travel and expense to either party as the local justice was created for that purpose to help the poor man. In so small a county as Ulster, 75 per cent of the cases so decided could be settled profitably to all if lawyer would use horse sense. Instead of acting as a persecutor to get a small fee and classifying all men dishonest except themselves the better type lawyer makes more money and friends keeping clients out of court in times like these. The better type lawyer would throw out cases where the client wanted to "ride" someone for political or personal grudge, using the case as a blind, or who wanted a lawyer of the type who prided himself on his ability to get "judgments" regardless of the merits or demerits of the cases. I could state some facts, regarding "celerity of action" and cold refusal to consider allied facts or submit them to the court to decide as to their worth, that makes one wonder what "justice" is supposed to represent. If a man who otherwise is a careful, conscientious worker, is accidentally killed and we brand him as negligent and contributing to his own death so the employer can squeeze out of liability, especially where there is a dependent family we have dispensed entirely with any sense of justice. The only recourse the man would have is to demand before accepting work is that his employer insure him against accident.

In Rosendale we have four justices, one police judge and a couple of auditors. What we need all these officeholders for is worth explaining. We could abolish our town board and elect a supervisor who would be solely responsible to taxpayers or to cut down expenses combine two towns and eliminate half the number on town board, as I favor abolition of justice of peace and police judge jobs unless they can be reduced in numbers.

I wonder how many taxpayers can state how much taxes the Wallkill Valley and Central Hudson pay to Rosendale. Did they ever see a public statement issued by any officeholder containing that amount as long as Silas Auchmoody has been Republican leader, and also the whole Republican party in Rosendale?

The grass is still green in streets and town of Rosendale as the Kingston political group boasted it would be many years ago. Instead of helping to keep industry in Rosendale as well as those who have faith and vision as to what it can be we find this leadership working day and night to destroy anything that might produce any employment except that which provides political advantage. Rosendale has had leadership of a type that in a case where there is abundant facts available to prove that they would sell out the local faithful folks who have been party workers and voters all their lives when the county crowd wants to put across a raw deal.

hope my neighbors will soon wake up and stop trimming one another to please a leadership which must laugh at their zeal, knowing full well that while so engaged they haven't time to understand how the wheels of local affairs go round to listen and think.

Another final revision of job is to demand a reorganization of Ulster's post office system on a sound business basis with the consolidating of post offices and rural routes and special contracts. As it now exists it's a political patronage racket. For the man who wants to know why it needs a searching investigation based on actual facts from department records, etc., some abuses Mr. Eisinger was asked to correct and refused to do so and Congressman Pratt also refused to either clarify certain facts or offer to assist in matter.

In closing I leave the matters suggested to the decision of the taxpayers' group who want reductions, etc., and would like to see the answer to proposed changes and I believe many others would also be glad to study them. The only one who stands in the way of reorganization on a business basis is the taxpayer himself, who hopes it will come, but who does not want the party leaders to find out? Thank you.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

St. Paul—Scott L. Gipple was "killed" about ten years today, and was "killed" by a lightning bolt. He was killed by a lightning bolt and was killed by a lightning bolt. He was killed by a lightning bolt and was killed by a lightning bolt.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McCormick, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McCormick and family were recent callers on Glendon Keeler, Mrs. Anne Strasser and Miss Blanche Fox.

On Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor society of the Reformed Church enjoyed a social time with their friends in the church parlors.

The Sunday evening service was in charge of George Langmuir. The theme was "Franchising World Brotherhood in Our Own Neighborhood."

Mrs. Harry Vandemark entertained her father, Raymond Smith, of Kingston, on the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Gerow entertained James Palmer and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnston of Platteville, Wis.

Harry W. Mary, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Mary, and a graduate of New Palm Normal, is now principal of the grammar school in Greenwood, Orange county, and has an enrollment of over 100 pupils.

Mrs. Frank Reday recently entertained guests from Long Island.

DEMONSTRATION ON WINTER BOUQUETS

The demonstration on winter bouquets given by Miss Lucille Smith, specialist in floriculture from the State College of Home Economics, will be repeated Thursday and Friday by Miss Evelyn Nance, Home Bureau manager in New Palm and Kingston. The meeting Thursday will be held in the New Palm Grange Hall, beginning at 2 p. m.

The meeting Friday has been arranged largely for representatives of granges and churches of the county. Any grange, or church in the county wishing to appoint a special committee who will be responsible for keeping the churches and grange halls supplied through the winter months with attractive bouquets made of local materials found in the woods and along the roadsides of Ulster county are invited to send this committee to see the demonstration Friday afternoon. It will be held at the Home Service Department of the Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corp., 611 Broadway, Kingston, beginning at 2 o'clock.

Card Party.

Charles DeWitt Council, No. 91, Jr. O. U. A. M., will hold a card party Friday evening, December 15, at its hall, 14 Henry street, at 8:30 o'clock. Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Church Going Chicken
Connellsville, Pa.—Chickens in this section are mighty lazy birds or Mrs. F. W. Jones is a mighty careful driver. Her car attracted much attention as she drove up to a local church. And no wonder for there on the rear bumper was a chicken—sound asleep.

Naughty Police Men
Philadelphia—If there's one thing Abe Lelder is fussy about it's the technique of policemen who arrest him. Explaining why he punched Patrolman Miller who took him into custody for selling paper bags without a permit, Abe declared: "Captain, I've been arrested by a lot of cops, but this guy that just grabbed me has absolutely no style. He made me mad, so I swung on him."

Speech! Speech!
Bainbridge, Ga.—The punishment of a young man who said he issued a $1 worthless check while intoxicated will depend on his ability to learn Henry W. Grady's oration on "Temperance."

Judge P. D. Rich told the defendant he would have until next Monday to learn the oration and recite it in open court with judgment to be based on his recitation. The defendant's name wasn't disclosed.

10 Hours to Get Sober
West Palm Beach, Fla.—Dr. H. Mason Smith, nerve specialist and president of the State Board of Health, figures it takes the average man at least ten hours to regain control of his faculties after he has been drunk.

Dr. Smith gave the testimony yesterday in a $50,000 damage suit.

Even George Was Disgusted
Albany—"The charge," said Police Justice Ragan, "is that you stole a powder puff, two pairs of bloomers and a girdle from the store at 51 North Pearl street."

George Davidson, 35, homeless, scraped his feet nervously and blushed.

"Nice things," continued the judge, "for a man to be stealing."

"Judge, I must have been out of my head," Davidson grinned sheepishly. He went to jail for 30 days.

Santa Claus Shocked
Louisville—At least one department store Santa Claus is wondering what the world is coming to. Being old-fashioned, he was profoundly shocked when a tot shouted: "Bring my daddy a bottle of whiskey."

These Stuck Up Athletics
Topeka, Kas.—It took more than a mile of adhesive tape to hold members of the Washburn football team together during the recent grid season. Earl Kraufman of the College Physical Education Department figures he used 5,120 feet of tape on the players during the season. An average of $55.56 was spent for tape for each player.

Chowder Sale.
The Ladies' Aid Society of Emmanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church on Livingston street will hold a chowder sale Friday, from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. The committee will appreciate the placing of orders in advance by phoning 1423-R or 5752; a supply of chowder will gladly be reserved for all who request it.

Financial and Commercial

New York, Dec. 14 (A).—The stock market refused to be perturbed today by the vote of the French chamber to default the war debt installment due tomorrow.

Share prices eased fractionally at the start but mostly recovered later with a few issues showing small gains by early afternoon. French and Belgian bonds weakened and the French franc hovered around the point at which gold may flow to New York but the British pound sterling was higher.

Allied Chemical, Union Pacific and American Telephone recovered early losses of nearly a point and telephone registered a moderate gain. U. S. Steel, New York Central and American Can recovered, after dipping about 1/2 point. Some activity developed in the rubber shares, which traded at slightly lower levels. New York city elections were again strong. Oils were dull and steady.

While trade and business news remained uninspiring for the most part, the electric power production figures were a little more favorable than last week. Freight car loadings appeared to be following the usual seasonal trend. New York Central reported 80,961 cars handled last week, as reduced from 84,802 cars in the previous week.

The government cotton consumption report was a little less favorable than advance estimates had indicated. The weekly petroleum figures showed moderate reductions in crude output and gasoline stocks but the price structure remained somewhat unsettled with rumors of fresh reductions in the mid-continent area. Plans for introducing a new farm relief measure in Congress which may call for the inauguration of the domestic allotment plan, attracted some attention in stock market quarters, particularly in those interested in chemical, farm implement and mail order shares.

Library Arrangement

Books were not always stored vertically. The Romans kept their scrolls on shelves or in boxes. Religious books, too bulky, were laid sideways. But with smaller books, better binding, and the practice of putting titles on the backs we got our vertical habit of storing.

Helen Keller's Visit Drew Large Audience

friends, the one from the other, she replied with a merry little chuckle. "By the perfume of them, the smell of tobacco, yes, of shoe polish."

Her reason for being so happy was that she had perfect confidence in God and that she had a chance to do something in the world.

For the benefit of the high school students present, Miss Keller told which were her favorite studies. Her favorite book is the Bible which she reads daily and to which undoubtedly she owes her remarkable command of English. From the Bible Miss Keller said "Through the years of darkness and sadness it gave me the hope of accomplishing the heights and also gave me a conception of sight and hearing which filled my world with beauty and harmony."

Hand spelling had opened the door to Helen Keller's prisoned life to the beauty of living, of childhood. She gave her audience a demonstration of the alphabet and said that "Going express, one could do about 55 words a minute and you go 'Express' when you are at a motion picture or a play by Bernard Shaw."

Helen Keller knew of one thing worse than being blind—"Having eyes and seeing not."

In closing, Miss Keller made a profoundly heart-stirring appeal for help from the people of Kingston for those who were just blind, and told her audience that the only way they could understand was to try and realize what it would mean to suddenly be plunged into permanent darkness, and yet blindness threatens every person. She told of the education of people become blind in adult years, of vocational training and much more that the American Foundation for the Blind is doing for the blind in America and even on the continent of Europe and of her one great ambition to raise a fund—the Helen Keller Endowment Fund—of $2,000,000 to carry on the work, and asked for the help of all present.

After the applause had ended, the orchestra played two or three selections while the pledge cards were being taken up by members of the Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs.

The instant the music started, Miss

The committee for the Kingston High School Junior Class dance to be held in the high school gym on December 22, has been working steadily on the plans for the affair, and from all indications it will be one of the most colorful gatherings of the season.

Blue and white are the colors that will be used in decorating, and an entirely new scheme has been worked up which is expected to transform the gymnasium into perfect environment for the dance. The plan of decoration has not been revealed.

George Smith and his orchestra, which has pleased patrons of the past dances, will be on deck for the Junior prom.

Tickets for the dance will be on sale Friday. Members of the committee and the officers of the class will have them to distribute.

The committee is as follows: Dave Byrne, chairman; Rita Flynn, Harriet Hussey, Bert MacFadden, John Whitaker and Janet Betz.

Ulster Poultrymen To Meet Next Tuesday

Tuesday night, December 20, at 7:30 the poultrymen of Ulster county will meet at the court house to organize a poultry association and hear a talk on poultry diseases by Dr. E. L. Brunett of the New York State Veterinary College at Ithaca. Dr. Brunett is one of the leading poultry-disease experts and a large attendance is expected. All poultrymen are cordially invited to attend.

This meeting has been arranged for by the Farm Bureau Poultry committee of which, Charles H. Weidner of West Shokan is chairman. The plan is to form a county poultry association and hold regular monthly meetings to discuss various problems that may arise and arrange for a program of interest to all.

After a brief business meeting Dr. Brunett will discuss new developments in the control of poultry diseases. Ample time will be allowed following the talk, for poultrymen to bring up any problems they have regarding poultry diseases.

Z. N. P. Club Wins Over Chocolateers; Winkky Girls Victors

The favorites in the regular Tuesday night basketball feature at White Eagle, Phil Kelly's Chocolateers, were edged out 25-24 in the last minute of play by the Z. N. P. Club when Joe Dulin, an imported player, caged two fouls to give the Polish brigade its one-point victory that brought to a close one of the most glitzy contests seen at the court this year and which was witnessed by a capacity crowd.

It is the hope of the Chocolateers to even things with the Z. N. P.'s in a return game later in December, when an even larger turnout of fans than was present last night is expected to witness the bitter rivals clash for the second time.

So keen were the Polish basketballers to win the first skirmish that they imported two players from other teams, Joe Dulin and Johnny Zeeh, who made the Chocolateers hustle. Zeeh did the heaviest scoring for the White Eagle boys, collecting 10 points for his evening's work. Dulin, relieving J. Dudek at center, made four points. Leading scorer for the Chocolateers was Bill Kennoch, who gleaned 10 markers.

Preliminary to the main event, the Winkky All Stars defeated the Bash All Stars, 10-3.

British Champ to Meet Chocolate

New York, Dec. 14 (AP).—Kid Chocolate's next defense of the featherweight championship he holds in the eyes of the New York State Athletic Commission, will take him into the ring against Seaman Watson, British title-holder, in Madison Square Garden, January 27.

Under the Garden's present plans, Fidel LaBarba, coast star who gave Chocolate such a bitter argument last week before he dropped a close decision in 15-rounds, will meet Chocolate again in February should the Cuban negro defeat Watson. In the event of a victory for Watson, LaBarba would be matched against the Briton, the winner then to meet Chocolate.

Warner's Newest Shift

SPORT SLANTS

By Alan J. Gould
(Associated Press Sports Editor.)

Late season college football developments hardly could have been better arranged in a number of conspicuous cases for the health and security of coaching jobs.

Few occupations are riskier or more subject to the fickleness of fortunes and alumni. Most big league college coaches know what it means to hear the cry of the wolves in the distance or the roar of the disgruntled pack at their very heels. In times like these it may often be enough to make a man restless in his sleep or short-tempered with the children.

Phelan Secure
Thus it is gratifying to read that Jimmy Phelan no longer needs to worry this year about his job at the University of Washington. The talk about a successor to the former Purdue coach and Notre Dame quarterback has been stillled by the great battle the Huskies gave Southern California's champions. It was one of those glorious defeats that possess a value akin to victory.

Mal Stevens was supposed to be definitely out after this season at Yale, by mutual agreement, but now we hear that Eli partisans, deeply stirred by the smashing El triumph over Harvard, want the good doctor to stay in charge of the coaching at New Haven.

From South Bend comes the tip that "Hunk" Anderson will stay as head coach, but that Athletic Director Jess Harper will leave Notre Dame. The rout of the Army by the rejuvenated Ramblers is Hunk's big achievement to date, strictly a product of his own handiwork, and it carries big weight among Notre Dame men all over the country.

Hunk Comes In Handy
Speaking of Anderson, Frank Graham in the New York Sun tells, with a timely touch, the story of a time Hunk and Knute Rockne were riding along in a small car. Rock was at the wheel. The car was brushed by a big truck, from the high seat of which two very tough-looking eggs glared down.

Rock poked his head out of his side of the car.

"Why don't you look where you're going?" he demanded. "You're worse than a dumb tackle."

"See you," growled the driver of the truck. "Another word out of you and I'll bust you on the nose."

"You and who else?" challenged Rock.

"Me," piped the truckie's assistant, as the two of them climbed down from the high seat.

Now, Rock feared no man that lived—or no two men, for that matter. But it was a hot day and he was comfortably settled behind the wheel, so he turned to big, silent Anderson.

"You handle 'em Hunk," he said.

So Hunk opened the door of his side and stepped out and banged the truckie's heads together and punched them full of holes and climbed back into the car. Rock stepped on the gas and the little car hummed down the road.

"Nice work, Hunk," said Rock.

TELLIER WINS AGAIN IN KASLICH TOURNAMENT

Julius Tellier was again the winner in a Kaslich tournament game Tuesday, when he defeated Kid Taylor by a 100 to 75 score. At the start of the game it appeared as though Taylor would upset the present holder of the city championship, but Tellier tightened in the closing innings and forged ahead to win by a safe margin.

Tonight, Fred Planthaber, who is expected to furnish Tellier the only real opposition in the tournament, meets Richard Palen.

Secord Channels

I begin to suspect that the common transactions of life are the most sacred channels for the spread of the heavenly heaven.—Macdonald.

True Courage

True courage is not incompatible with nervousness, and heroism does not mean the absence of fear, but the conquest of it.—H.A. Van Dyke.

Hudson Club to Play Spinnys Thursday

Thursday evening in Pythian Hall, Port Ewen the Spinnys quintet will meet strong opposition on the court, when it meets the Hudson Club. The visiting team will be composed of a fine array of basketball players including Conti, Zayac, "Stretch" Kearney, Don Waggoner, center, Bill Eltinge, former Syracuse star, Ziembra, Tracy and Thomson. These players are veterans of the court game and are expected to give the Spinnys a hard battle. The Spinnys have been going strong this season, having lost but one home game. The Detroit Clowns downed the Spinnys last Saturday night.

In the preliminary two fast teams will be seen in action, when the Aces play the St. Mary's team of Oneonta. St. Mary's is one of the fastest teams in its section, having defeated some of the best teams there, including the Delhi Big Five.

Dancing will follow the games with music supplied by Lee Hannibal's Troubadours.

Stern Opposition For Cue Leaders

New York, Dec. 14 (AP).—Two of the three undefeated leaders in the national pocket billiard championship, Ralph Greenleaf of New York, and Jimmy Caras of Wilmington, Del., were confronted by stern opposition today.

Greenleaf, the defending champion, was paired against the veteran Kansas City star, Bennie Allen, while Caras was booked against Frank Taberski, former title-holder from Schenectady, N. Y. Allen, who has split even in four games so far, accounted for the biggest upset of the tournament in his last start, whipping Andrew Ponzil of Philadelphia. Taberski, after losing three games in a row, has come back to win his last two starts and should give the 21-year-old Wilmington sensation his stiffest tussle.

Sunday School League Results

In one of the closest Sunday School Basketball League games to date, the Comforter Church team defeated the Congregationals, 30-29, at the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday night before a gathering of spectators who were given plenty of thrills from the opening to the closing whistle of the fray.

The boys from the Wynkoop Place house of worship took the lead at the outset and held it although pressed every minute by the Congregationals who were eager to spoil the unsold record of their opponents. At half time the tally was 18-16 with the Comforters leading.

High scorers for the Congregationals were Krum and Planthaber, who made 14 and 12 points respectively. Rhymmer with 11 markers was high for the Comforters.

The other league contest in which the Port Ewen team met the Redeemers was a breather for the boys from across the creek who easily retained their lead in the circuit by trouncing the boys of the Wurts street church to the tune of 26-11.

Teetsell and Jack Short did the best shooting for Port Ewen. They made nine and five points respectively. G. Schline with four was highest man on the Redeemer list.

Record Crowd Is Expected To See Clowns vs. Ridgers

Pete Bruck's Stone Ridgers expect to keep in harmony with the weather man by snowing under the Detroit Clowns in the regular Wednesday basketball feature at B. W. S. Hall, High Falls, tonight, before a crowd that probably will surpass any seen at the Poultrymen's court so far this season.

Eager to slap another defeat onto the Clowns, such as was handed them by Steve Marone's American Legion quintet last week, the Bruckmen are anxious for the opening whistle of the game and contemplate on pressing the funny men to the limits throughout the court battle.

Coach Bill Quick believes that his men are in the best shape of the year and expects a victory for the Stone Ridgers, who will take the floor with the following lineup: Van Deusen and Niles, forwards; Knoll, center; Merritt, Wood and Bruck, guards.

The Clown brigade will consist of Tony Wilkens and Ed Taylor, forwards; Ben Wilson, center; Pete Rubin and Mike Lulejian, guards. Buster Kenny, chief fundraiser of the team, will also be on hand to do his routine between the halves.

Starting time of the contest is 8:30. There will be a preliminary between the Rocknes and Wilbur Girls at 7:30 and after the contests dancing will be enjoyed to the strains of Lee Hannibal's Troubadours.

FEATHERWEIGHT STAR PAYING VISIT HERE.

"Let me have the honor to introduce you to one of the best featherweights in the world." That's the salutation of Antonio Rodriguez, local Spanish boxer, as he presents to his friends Johnny Pena, 123-pounder, who is visiting this section, which he likes as well as did Max Schmeling when he trained at Greenkill Lodge to defend his heavyweight title against Jack Sharkey.

Tony has been busy for the past couple of days introducing the courteous Mr. Pena to boxing enthusiasts of this city as the formidable ringman who holds victories over such bellers as Lou Feldman, Archie Bell, Vadal Gregorio and none other than the celebrated Fidel LaBarba, who recently lost to Kid Chocolate. Rodriguez does not fail to add that Pena is anxious for a match with the "Keed" himself and also that he thinks his friend can beat the Cuban Bon Bon.

Pena came to this vicinity several days ago and is staying at the Joseph Zehentener farm in Whiteport. He did not know his friend Rodriguez was a resident of Kingston until he met him while walking up town. Tony was shoveling on the "relief gang." Like every other business, the fight game is suffering from the depression and Rodriguez cannot find a prosperous club in which to earn the wherewith to eat.

SENECAS PUT IT OVER PORT EWEN ACES, 25-18.

The Kingston Senecas, playing at Salvation Army Hall Tuesday night, defeated the Port Ewen Aces by the tally of 25-18 in a basketball war that featured Geisler as the chief scorer for the victors. This flashy right forward tossed the ball through the hoop for four fields and two fouls, making 10 points. Port with six was high for the Aces.

Mr. Conner Struck In Knee By Axe

Jesse Conner, 65, who has a farm at Kripplenebush, was brought to the Kingston Hospital Tuesday afternoon, suffering from a severe cut in the right knee, sustained while engaged with a companion in chopping down a tree. He was treated by Drs. Snyder and Krom, who found that the cut extended through the knee cap and into the bones of the knee. His condition was reported as fairly good this morning.

The accident occurred when the axe wielded by his companion instead of hitting the tree, which was about to fall, struck Mr. Conner in the knee.

Mr. Conner was taken in a lumber wagon to his home, where after treatment had been given by Dr. E. F. Galvin of Rosendale, he was taken to Kingston Hospital in the ambulance of W. N. Conner, a nephew of the injured man.

Chosen by the House.
Both Thomas Jefferson and John Quincy Adams were chosen President by the house of representatives.

Corsets and Wider Shoulders Accent the Waist-line

New York—Sleeves give every promise of retaining their selling role. Width at the arms is a feature of the newest dresses, and width above the elbows is an important sleeve detail, with slashes occasionally approved.

Even those who vote big sleeves something of a nuisance are putting up with the inconvenience for the sake of fashion, for which reason women seem always ready, nay willing, to sacrifice comfort. Big sleeves will mean big coat sleeves too, so everything in time will be taken care of.

It has frequently been observed that, since women have accepted the corset, they may be expected to accept anything. Corsets are now a very definite necessity, even though one may have no real reason for wearing them. They are a must—and that's all there is to it. One thing for which we are eternally grateful is that they are far more slightly than the funny old contraptions of other days and far more comfortable, since they bear a definite relationship to one's figure. One must either actually or in effect produce something that resembles a waistline, so both corsets and big sleeves—capes, too—are pressed into service.

The silhouette of widened shoulders and narrow hips is continued, and in this category the cape must be given its due. The youthful cape—costume in crepe, the cape brief, is included in resort groups, and certain style authorities express the opinion that the cape is a greater style asset in daytime than in evening fashions.

Skirts remain slender, with incidental pleats sometimes providing fullness, posed at the seams or at the center front. In many instances, daytime dresses have a shirtwaist quality.

Color combinations achieved by trimmings are versatile, including hyacinth with fuchsia, yellow with capucine, brown and white, white with brown, hyacinth or signal red, turquoise on brown, white or black.

And So to Bed in Pajamas

The pajama above is of satin, with a note of variation introduced in the shape of neckline and the armhole cuts; it is the two-piece type which attracts great interest this season. The lace is alencons.

The gown shows the seamed-across-the-waistline treatment which has come in for discussion lately where the top part is set on in "shirt-waist" fashion. The upper section combines point d'esprit and alencons in a wide shoulder working.

St. Paul May Issue City Scrip Money

St. Paul, Dec. 14 (AP).—A plan for issuance of city scrip money was before the municipal council today, and with it Mayor William Mahoney's recommendation for speedy adoption.

Helping the unemployed and decreasing the drain on relief agencies are the aims, said the mayor, who added that the new exchange medium should increase business volume.

The plan, developed by the labor mayor after a trip to Hawarden, Iowa, where scrip is in use, calls for circulation of 50 cent and $1 certificates by the city to be used to pay men on city and county projects.

One and two cent stamps sold by the city would represent the total value of the certificates. With each turnover addition of a stamp to the scrip by the user is contemplated. The one cent stamps to the 50 cent certificates and the two cent stamps to the $1 notes.

When the 50-cent certificates bore 52 cents in stamps—accumulated as they passed from hand to hand for purchase of commodities or services from local businessmen, they could be returned to the city for redemption in United States currency.

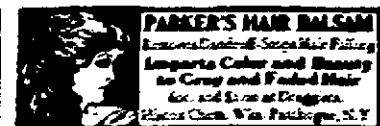

The municipality would have 50 cents for this redemption, received from sale of stamps, and two cents more to cover costs of issuance. Dollar certificates call for accumulation of $1.04 in stamps before redemption.

"Stamped money will not be hoarded," the mayor said. "It will circulate rapidly and result in increased buying."

England Will Pay Debt on Thursday

London, Dec. 14 (AP).—Neville Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that payment of England's $95,550,000 debt installment will be made in gold in New York tomorrow, or by arrangement between the Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England.

The chancellor of the exchequer made this statement in the course of an exposition of the government's debt policy in the House of Commons. The members cheered his announcement.

Congressmen Move to Protect Themselves

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—The House went about its business as usual today, but its members talked seriously of protecting themselves from those who would enforce their demands with dangerous weapons.

While Martin H. M. Kemmerer, 25-year-old Allentown, Pennsylvania, department store clerk, who yesterday displayed a revolver and demanded the right to speak from the gallery, was held by police, the suggestion was advanced that the public sections be closed to all who do not possess tickets.

Kenneth Romney, House sergeant at arms, said: "I believe no one should enter without tickets and that members should be most careful in issuing cards of admission in times like these."

The crowded chamber was thrown into wild confusion at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon as Kemmerer, described as an expert marksman, suddenly stood up in the gallery, placed one leg over the railing and waved a revolver.

"I want the floor for a few minutes," he shouted.

A page boy cried "Look out for the gun," and there was a dash for the cloak rooms, the members forgetting the vote they were engaged in and most of their dignity. Visitors in the gallery promptly scattered.

"I want the floor," Kemmerer shouted again. Representative McMillan (D., S. C.), who was in the speaker's chair, vainly rapped for order.

At that moment Representative Maas (R., Minn.), a World War aviator, appeared at a spot under the pale, excited clerk who told newspapermen later he was "for all people."

"All right, son," Maas called to him, "but before you get the floor just give me the gun." Kemmerer dropped it into Maas's hands. Just then Representative LaGuardia (R., N. Y.), who had rushed from the floor to the gallery, and police appeared behind the youth and he was taken to headquarters for questioning.

AGAINST MORE FUNDS FOR RIVERS AND HARBORS

Washington, Dec. 14 (AP).—Representative Snell (R., N. Y.), house minority leader, told newspapermen after a conference with President Hoover today that he felt the President "doubts the advisability of congressional authorization of more funds for rivers and harbors work."

Snell said he had discussed the matter with the chief executive at the request of the Republican house members who wanted to obtain Mr. Hoover's views toward rivers and harbors work as a relief measure.

He said his impression was that Mr. Hoover was inclined to "follow out his recommendations to congress that relief construction work be confined to self-liquidating projects."

Snell expressed the opinion that "in the present state of finances," the country did not want further authorizations for work, explaining congress already had authorized projects for several years ahead.
